

Seaside News

Thomas Andrews, the 39-year-old designer of the Titanic, was on board when the ship sank. He is the person who told the captain that it was certain that the ship would sink once he became aware that the vessel was damaged in five of its watertight compartments. Imagine how he felt while urging passengers to get into lifeboats, still standing on a ship that was said to be unsinkable but surely was sinking.

Andrews worked at Harland and Wolff, the Belfast shipyard that built the ship.

He had the habit of travelling on the first voyage of the vessels that he had a hand in building. Part of why he was onboard was to see that everything was working right. Andrews was said to be a very hard worker and a kind man. He often helped people in need including those who worked for him.

Word Search

S	I	N	K	I	N	G	T	C	E
R	V	L	O	W	N	T	I	A	L
E	O	I	C	W	L	F	U	P	E
N	Y	F	V	I	M	Q	F	T	S
G	A	E	U	Q	N	A	C	A	S
I	G	B	J	G	Z	A	K	I	E
S	E	O	Q	N	K	T	T	N	V
E	D	A	M	A	G	E	D	I	O
D	V	T	L	D	S	B	D	X	T
U	N	S	I	N	K	A	B	L	E

TITANIC DESIGNER CAPTAIN
LIFEBOATS VESSEL BUILT
SINKING VOYAGE DAMAGED
UNSINKABLE

1. What is the name of the Titanic designer?
2. Where did he work?
3. What did he do when the ship was sinking?
4. Why did he travel on the first voyages of ships he helped design?
5. What kind of person was Thomas Andrews?

1. Thomas Andrews
2. Harland and Wolff
3. Urge passenger to get into the lifeboats.
4. To make sure everything was working right.
5. He was a hard worker and a kind man.

Joke of the Month

What would you find on a haunted beach?

A sand-witch!